Written by Marco Attard
20. January 2017

Kanex announces a pair of additions to the GoPower Apple Watch accessory line at CES 2017-- the GoPower Watch Stand magnetic charging stand and the Watch Mini portable keychain battery.

The Watch Stand is compatible with both 38 and 42mm Watch models. It handles charging and display duties, with the magnetic charging securely holding the smartwatch in place, and an additional USB port in the back allows the simultaneous charging of any other device. Power comes through included DC adapter.

On the other hand the Watch Mini charges a Watch on-the-go without need for any cables. It starts charging at first contact, and provides 1000mAh of power for a full extra charge to the smartwatch. Recharging comes through micro USB, and the compact design easily fits pockets or keychains.

The GoPower Watch Stand and Watch Mini are on show at CES 2017 before hitting the market on February 2017.

Go Kanex Introduces Magnetic Charging Stand and Portable Keychain Battery for Apple Watch at CES 2017