

As videogames shift from physical to online sales UK retail chain GAME spices up its product offering by adding a slew of tablets on its market shelves.

GAME already sells the Nexus 7, but soon 150 stores will offer 9 more tablets-- including the Archos Gamepad, the Acer Iconia B1-A71 and the obligatory 4th generation iPad and iPad mini.

"Tablets are an increasingly popular gaming platform so it's a natural step for us to be at the heart of providing these to the UK gaming community," the retailer says. "We are really excited about the GamePad, it's great to be able to offer our customers something that is not only brand new but specifically tailored to gamers."
