The Google Q4 2011 earnings call not only contains the company's revenues, but also reveals how many Android devices are out there-- 250 million, according to the company, up 50M from Q3 2011.

Google also says daily Android device activations total 70000.

Android app store downloads are also up-- Google says app downloads hit 10 billion in early December, and current downloads total nearly 11BN.
