iDevice accessory maker Adonit announces a pair of styluses-- the Mark and Switch, with the Mark being the entry-level model while the Switch is the more premium option.

The Mark is a standard mesh-tipped stylus, if one with a number of interesting features such as an anti-roll design and an aluminium body. It is available in either silver or black colours to match Silver and Space Gray iDevices.

On the other hand the Switch is a convertible stylus packing a 0.8mm ballpoint pen together with a clear plastic precision stylus tip. Like the Mark it also comes in silver or black.

Both Mark and Switch styluses are available now.
